

Dear ... School Admissions Committee:

Mr. has requested from me to supply you with a letter of reference in support of his application for admission to your law institution. Mr. has been a student of mine in International Private Law at University (2013-2014) as well as International Arbitration (2013-2014). Mr. definitely falls into one of the top students I have taught. His outstanding grasp of logic, maturity, clarity, and communication skills have made him a standout. I view these skills as extremely important in his planned career.

In relevance to his application, in my International Arbitration class students participated in debate, there were presentations, which Mr. excelled in both. He was one of the few students with perfect attendance in my course. He was always ready and a regular participant in class discussions and constantly added value to such discussion—a rare occurrence indeed. His writing skills are similarly strong as he continuously demonstrated throughout the class whenever a paper was allocated. In the class presentation sessions Mr. presented a topic of his choice titled, “.....”. He presented a thoroughly-researched thesis and persuasively presented the arguments for regarding International Law is extremely demanding, especially at Istanbul University. Mr. was always at the top end of both of my classes. I am familiar with Mr.’s reputation at our university where he is held in high regard. As far as I observed and got to know him through these two courses, Mr. is a passionate, trustworthy, hardworking, appropriate legist for an academic life who has sense of responsibility, aims and goals and a knowledge what to do to reach these goals, who works in a meticulous manner and who has a higher reasoning skills than the average student I have taught.

It has been a pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Mr. I have no doubt that Mr. will successfully complete his master’s program at your institution if given the opportunity. Over the years I have written many law school recommendations for my students. I cannot think of another reference I have written, however, where I feel as strongly about a student’s potential to excel in law school. It is for these reasons that I provide him with my most outstanding recommendation. Mr. will make a great addition to your law school’s program. . If you should require further information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Warmest regards,
